

Jackson County Boy Willing To Die For His Country.

Glad He Volunteered—Enjoying Army Life.

Camp Donephon,
Ft. Sill, Okla.
Oct. 3, 1917.

Dear Editor:

If you will allow me space in your paper I will send you a little of the army news.

There are near 2700 boys now, and there will be 7000 in another week or two. We are treated fine and enjoy life, and it just suits me.

I am sure glad that I volunteered instead of being drafted, but I shall never forget old Jackson county and her people, and I do wish that they would write me as I get blue sometimes.

There are 130 in our company and it will be enlarged to 250 in a short time.

I guess that I will spend Christmas in France. But I am going with the intention of coming back, for war is only a game of chance, and I am very good at a chance. I may be the lucky one, but if I don't get back I am proud that I have no cold streak up my back. I am willing to die for my country any old time.

I will close for this time for I guess this will go in the waste.

Postal cards and letters will be appreciated and answered.

Yours truly,

D. C. Frederick,

Co. I, 140th Mo Infantry N. G.

MRS. HAMILTON HAS GAINED 18 POUNDS

Was in Wretched Health Before Taking Tanlac, and Fell Off Until She Was Almost a Living Skeleton.

"If you had seen me before I began taking Tanlac you would not believe it was the same person talking to you now," said Mrs. Emma E. Hamilton, one of the best known residents of Ensley, Ala., in telling of the remarkable results obtained from the use of Tanlac, the medicine that is accomplishing such wonderful results in the south.

"Just think of it!" continued Mrs. Hamilton, "I have gained eighteen pounds since I began taking the medicine, and I have only taken two bottles.

"I suffered from a nervous breakdown, and for nineteen months have been in wretched health. I had no appetite and the little I ate did more harm than good, and my sleep was very poor. I was so weak and felt so miserable that it would sometimes take me from breakfast until supper to get my housework finished, for I would have to stop every few minutes and rest. I was too played out to keep on the go. I took all kinds of treatment, but nothing did me any good, and I just kept getting worse all the time. It seemed like I was losing strength every day, and I lost weight until I was almost a living skeleton.

"My husband begged me to try Tanlac, and just to please him I bought a bottle. I have just finished up my second bottle, and I tell you I wouldn't take five hundred dollars for the good it has done me. It strengthened me up right from the start, gave me a good appetite, and every thing I eat agrees with me perfectly, and I sleep fine. As I have already said, I have gained eighteen pounds, and I believe I am the happiest woman in town, and I believe I have a right to be. I feel simply fine in every way.

"My friends are asking what I have been doing to myself to look so much better, and of course I tell them that Tanlac is responsible. I believe it is the best medicine ever sold over a drug store counter.

"Yes sir, you are perfectly welcome to use my statement in the papers, and I am only too glad to be able to let the people know what this wonderful medicine will do for the sick. I believe anyone in the shape I was in will find entire relief in Tanlac."

Tanlac is sold in Gainesboro by L. B. Anderson, and by one established agency in every town.

Tire Conservation Day Saturday, Oct. 13

brings to the motorists of this city and vicinity first-hand information for all who are interested in increasing the wearing power of their tires and so reducing this item of expense.

A well-known tire expert will give personal attention to the tire problems of all who come to the demonstration. His interesting exhibits show all kinds of tire wear—preventable and unpreventable—and his mission is to reduce to the minimum the preventable kinds of tire failure for motorists of this community.

This demonstration is free. It makes no difference what kind of tires you use—you are urged to come—for your good.

BEAUTIFUL Avondale

Home of the Late E. S. Gardner

PROBABLY THE BEST COUNTRY HOME IN MIDDLE TENNESSEE

Will be Sold

BY AUCTION

Wednesday, October 17th

On the Premises 10 o'clock, A. M., Rain or Shine

AVONDALE—the famous farm of the late E. S. Gardner, located twenty miles north of Nashville and six miles south of Gallatin, on the Nashville-Gallatin pike, consisting of 540 acres, with a mile and a half frontage—will be sold to the highest bidder October 17.

AVONDALE has been used for the breeding and raising of fine race horses, cattle, hogs, etc., and as such is known all over the country.

On the farm is located a beautiful ten-room residence, a small dairy plant, barns, paddocks and other necessary out-houses. Also three interurban and an L. & N. railroad station. A large tank supplies fresh water to all buildings and paddocks.

AVONDALE is being sold to wind up the estate. It will be divided into parcels; each parcels will be offered to the highest bidder, and in turn it will be offered for sale as a whole. The plan producing the best price will be accepted.

One hundred and forty head of hogs, one hundred head of cattle, a number of horses, ponies and mules, all farm machinery, crops and some household furniture will also be sold on same date.

At present about one-half of AVONDALE is in cultivation, the balance in pasture. The soil is especially adapted to stock raising. Many acres have been in blue grass more than twenty years.

The residence is a modern country home, having bath, hardwood floors, etc. A beautiful lawn surrounds the house with flower and vegetable gardens in abundance.

The terms of purchase will be very liberal—one-fourth cash, the balance in one, two, three and four years. (Or longer time if desired.) Will give possession at once.

In this sale of AVONDALE the people of Tennessee and the country at large are offered what is probably the prettiest stock farm in Tennessee—a farm known throughout the country for its prize and track-winning products. This is a rare opportunity to secure such choice property at your own price.

Horses or automobile with guide furnished to inspect farm. Big barbecue on grounds.
